MUSIC THERAPY

Sydney: Wednesday, 16 March 2016, 9:00am to 4:30pm

Melbourne: Wednesday, 18 May 2016, 9:00am to 4:30pm

Adelaide: Wednesday, 22 June 2016, 9:00am to 4:30pm

This workshop will be presented by Dr Loretta Quinn, Registered Nurse and Music Therapist. She will show how music can be used as an aid to decrease responsive behaviours.

An engaging one-day and interactive workshop that will cover what music is the most effective and how you, the non musician, can use music effectively to reduce responsive behaviours such as resistance to care, wandering, insomnia, and verbal and physical aggression.

Workshop Includes:

- Workshop information handout
- Practical music group activities
- Problem solving in groups
- DVD of Music Therapy in action

Registration Fees:
$275 per person

Includes lunch and refreshments

DR LORETTA QUINN is a Registered Music Therapist and a Registered Nurse Div1. Loretta has extensive experience in both of these disciplines which gives her evidence based workshops and products a wholistic, practical and realistic 'edge'. Her work covers both the community and residential aged care setting right across Australia.

Having an Italian background, Loretta has a unique understanding about the issues faced by people with dementia and their carers from a non English speaking background and incorporates this understanding into her workshops and resources.
